The Weekly Bulletin for Sunday 7th October 2018

Once upon a time an elderly man was making his way home through the park after a long day at work. Some youths set upon him. They were carrying knives. They mugged him, injured him and left him lying in a pool of blood.

A while later, a city gent passed by. He looked at the bleeding man on the ground & thought: This may be a trap. If I stop to help him someone might come out from the bushes & attack me. I'd better hurry home. And so he did.

A few moments later another man happened to come along. He saw the elderly man on the ground and thought: I'd better pretend not to have seen him. If I stop and call the police and ambulance they will ask me a lot of questions. They will want a lot of information. I'll be a witness and I'll probably have to go to Court eventually to say what I saw. I really can't be bothered with all this. I'd better rush home. And so he did.

A few minutes later a learned man came by. He had studied sociology, philosophy, and many other important subjects & he was now a famous professor at the local University whose opinion & views were often sought on matters of importance. He looked at the injured man on the ground & thought: Whoever did this needs help. They must be from an under-privileged background & up-bringing. Poor souls! He hurried home thinking about modern society & decided to write a paper on crime & poverty.

Two thousand years after Jesus told a similar story, life hasn't changed so much in this world. But we are called to be the missing Samaritan – to minister to those who need our help, to take pity on them, to bandage their wounds, to take care of them – to show them God's love in a practical way.

BIG COLLECTION BULLETIN:

Our target for 2018 is £6,700.00

This is an opportunity to invite people in to our buildings – to raise money for The Big Collection, to see what we do & what the Salvation Army is all about. They can pick up a bargain, start their Christmas shopping early, be refreshed by our wonderful cuisine & enjoy the warmth of the Staple Hill Salvation Army fellowship.

It's a win win day of great possibilities
– please take hold of the opportunity.

Have you ever wondered what we do at
The Salvation Army and why we do it...
Why do we wear a uniform?
What do we do in this community?
What is a euphonium?!

Come along and find out the answers to all of the above... whilst enjoying live music, free refreshments and guided tours of our church!

goes on. You may know of people you would like to invite or you might like to take a few fliers to put through the doors of where you live or in & around Staple Hill. Another great & positive opportunity – please take hold of it, pray for it & do something!
