The Weekly Bulletin for Sunday 28th April 2019

The International College for Officers provides a short-term residential course at Sunbury Court near London for officers selected by their leaders, where further training and development opportunities are provided, in an environment that also allows for personal reflection, spiritual renewal, and growth in personal holiness. There are currently four sessions per year, with around 35 delegates attending each unique session. It exists to further develop officers by: nurturing personal holiness and spiritual leadership; providing opportunity to experience the internationalism of The Salvation Army; and encouraging a renewed sense of mission & purpose as an officer. The curriculum involves a varied course of study with guest lecturers & staff instructors. Classroom subjects are included to encompass all aspects of the ICO Mission. Field Trips to historic locations around Greater London & beyond enhance each delegate's understanding of the Army & its place in the broader Christian community. The College provides:

- An environment which is conducive to spiritual and physical rest, and where each officer has the time to be alone and with others for prayer, study of God's Word, and reflection on his/her individual ministry;
- Exposure to the personnel and systems of the international Army; an evolving, relevant and mission-focused curriculum;
- Experience the diversity that exists in the Army world in relation to culture, ministry, race & gender, through delegates, staff & visitors;
- A setting and time for each officer to be listened to, prayed for, valued, and given opportunity to explore his/her own gifts and potential.

I know we have been & will continue to pray for Colin & his colleagues
