Books are to gain knowledge

This quotation was always said to us on Sunday School Prize Giving by a gentleman, Mr Guest, who was a Methodist lay preacher and a friend of the corps. Have you ever noticed when a person is being interviewed on television how often they are shown sitting in front of shelves of books? I do question how often the books have ever left the shelves!

Personally, I haven't been a regular visitor to the library. I have read many novels – especially of Christian characters. I love poetry and enjoy the War Cry stories (which are always a pleasure). The book I treasure most, however, is the Holy Bible. The 'Good News' version is my favourite because it is simple to understand. I find much enjoyment in its teaching and it provides for my spiritual needs. It also encourages us to "Rejoice Always". 1 Thess. Ch 5 v 16. The Bible is written so that we can gain spiritual knowledge and answers to all our questions. May you too enjoy it, and take it off the shelf – for it is the most valuable of all books to possess!

The Bible is God's telephone, sending messages down from His throne.

WEEKLY PAPER DELIVERIES:

From the 13th June the children who receive the Kid's Alive publication will be able to collect them from the hall.

We will continue the weekly mailing for the War Cry and Salvationist until Saturday, 20th June. After this time, they will also be available for collection from the hall.

Together with the papers last week, you will have received a letter from Colin and Nicola explaining this in more detail. Please note that if you want to continue receiving the Kids Alive, Salvationist or War Cry publications that you will need to complete and return the tear off slip.

BAND PRACTICES RESUME:

Does anyone remember what this is for?

We have received clearance from DHQ that our band practices can finally resume this week – with all covid restrictions and safety measures in place. Under current guidance, we are still unable to have more than 6 people playing on a Sunday – but it is another sign that things are getting back to normal again!

As we continue to build on our support of Sunday Worship, we are able to take bigger steps on our journey to be the band that God wants us to be. We may be the same as we were before. We may be something completely new. We may be a hybrid of both. But God has a plan and we look forward to being part of that plan.
